pbb and BNP Paribas arrange £230 million facility to Oxford Properties and Brockton Capital for redevelopment of The Post Building, London

Munich/London, 13 January 2016 -- pbb Deutsche Pfandbriefbank and BNP Paribas have arranged a £230 million facility to Oxford Properties, the global real estate arm of the Ontario Municipal Employees Retirement System ("OMERS"), and Brockton Capital for the redevelopment of The Post Building, London. The transaction closed in December 2015.

The Post Building (the former Royal Mail Sorting Office, located on an island block bordered by New Oxford Street, High Holborn and Museum Street, in London) will form a 320,000 sq ft, AHMM designed scheme providing high specification offices with vast section heights; exciting street-level retail and restaurant space; affordable housing; and rooftop gardens. The project will significantly enhance the public realm in the area and will be delivered in-line with the new £1bn Crossrail station at Tottenham Court Road and the £40m public realm improvements at Tottenham Court Road, Gower Street and Princes Circus.

Charles Balch, Head of Real Estate Finance International Clients, UK & CEE at pbb Deutsche Pfandbriefbank, said: "We have a long standing relationship with both Oxford Properties and Brockton Capital and are delighted to be able to support them together in such a prestigious project."
